Two Great Meetings Addressed by the Senator at Marion and Another by Representative Dalzell.

GOOD SPEECHES TO GERMANS

MADE BY KOERNER, REMY AND HANNA AT FORT WAYNE.

Montgomery County Canvass-Mr. Barcus at Clay City-Enthusiastic Meetings at Other Points.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, Ind., Oct. 11 .- The demonstration which, great as it was, was only in fair crescendo at the early hour of Governor Roosevelt's address, reached its full strength in the great outpouring to hear Indiana's junior senator, Albert J. Beveridge, who spoke to first voters this morning and delivered a general address this afternoon. The senator's morning meeting was more of a political love feast than a formal meeting, as, after a short speech, general expressions from the audience became a part of the programme. The showing of the young voters of this county for Republicanism was a credit to this, one of the banner Republican counties of the

This afternoon the enthusiasm was intense when Senator Beveridge, shortly after 2 o'clock, was introduced by Representative Steele, who was his host during the senator's stay in the city. It was some time before the speaker could make himself heard by the vast audience, which aphis speech Senator Ecveridge said that to North Salem Republicans Wednesday since the Democratic organization has night. There was a large turnout, and come under the leadership of William Jennings Bryan its only proposition has been to haul down something American. Its to haul down something American. Its FOR THE HALL OF FAME American flag, but to this the American people object, as they will show by their ballots on the 6th of next month. After a thorough review of industrial, financial and other economic conditions, he took up expansion and showed that every party that has opposed expansion has been killed by popular opposition. Speaking of the new possessions obtained by the conflict with Spain, he showed the economic value of the islands, and by quotations from letters received by him from the Philippines from soldiers fighting for the flag, that the only reason Aguinaldo is reviving his forces at the present time is for the political effect it may have in this

Expects to Carry New York.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, Ind., Oct. 11.-Representative John B. Dalzeli heid a crowded audience in Wyandotte Hall to-night with an interesting argument on the Republican issues of the day. Mr. Dalzell made a careful review of the conditions under the Cleveland regime, in comparison with those under the present management. He is much surprised at the manner in which Republicans are waging the campaign in this State, their aggressiveness exciting his favorable comment. In speaking of New York, Mr. Dalzell expressed confidence in Republican success there.

THURSTON AND LODGE.

They Address Great Meetings Muncie-Other Speakers.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 11 .- Following the departure of Governor Roosevelt from Muncie came two important speeches, one by Senator Thurston, the eloquent Nebraskan, and one by Colonel James S. Dodge, of Elkhart. Senator Thurston devoted his time to the important issues, taking one and all of them, but dealing mostly with trusts. He said that any party which tears down capital, as Mr Bryan proposes to do, will, like Sampson, tear down the pillars of the temple of our in-He held that the Constitution follow the flag, but rather the American institutions that make life, liberty and a happy people. "When the Fili-pinos have developed and show themselves capable of appreciation, those institutions will be extended to them," said he. Colonel Dodge covered the financial olicies of the administration and the naional prosperity. He vindicated the Porto dean tariff bill and actions of the Repubican Congress on that measure, making one of his best speeches. To-night, following a great torchlight procession, there were two other speeches. Representative | Peking. tephen Morgan, of Ohio, and W. R. Payne, of Chicago, were the speakers, two

SPEECHES TO GERMANS

Made by Messrs. Koerner, Remy and Hanna at Fort Wayne.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 11 .- There was a spirited meeting of German Republicans here to-night in the Republican tent, seating six hundred. It was addressed by Christ. Koerner, who was enthusiastically received. The feature and significance of the meeting was in the presence, as presiding officer, of J. F. W. Meyer, one of the most potent of German Lutheran leaders. He was a Gold Democrat four years ago. Charles F. Remy and R. B. Hanna also addressed the meeting, the latter in German.

Mr. Barcus at Clay City.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CLAY CITY. Ind., Oct. II.-J. S. Bareus, of Terre Haute, was given a rousing reception at White's Opera House in this city, last night, where he ably discussed the political issues from a Republican standpoint. To the unprejudiced mind he gave convincing proof that if imperialism has been established in the Philippines W. J. Bryan is largely responsible for it. Democratic antagonism to anti-trust legislation was thoroughly ventilated. The entire seating capacity of the opera house was taken up, and the audience was one of the most attentive that ever assembled there.

Parke County Hears Taylor.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ROCKVILLE, Ind., Oct. 11 .- Former Governor W. S. Taylor, of Kentucky fame, spoke at Rosedale yesterday afternoon. polding his hearers in close attention for over two hours. He reviewed the issues between the two parties carefully, makg one of the best speeches delivered in Parke county this campaign. Rockville sent 113 Republicans to the speaking by cial train, and there were delegations sent from Terre Haute and from other places in Parke and Vigo counties.

Montgomery County Canvass.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 11 .- C. B. Landis is speaking this week in Montomery county, and is being greeted by Nelson Crews spoke at Crawfordsville last night to a large audience of Wabash College students. A Re-publican club is being formed.

South Bend Republicans. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 4.-Fred Hoiloway, of Anderson, Ind., spoke here toaight under auspices of the South Bend McKinley and Roosevelt Club. Previous and came to Montana from Leavenworth, to the address, there was a parade, all of | Kan.

ing. Mr. Holloway's address was delivered in the southern part of the city | 1171 and was listened to by a large audience in the open air. His arguments were strong and met hearty approval.

Enthusiastic Madison Meeting.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MADISON, Ind., Oct. 11 .- By far the largest political demonstration of the campaign was made to-night by the Republican Rough Riders and marching clubs, who turned out to the number of over 600, with music and torches, and paraded the streets, which were lined by thousands of spectators. C. H. Lichtman made a strong address to a packed courthouse in the interest of Republicanism, and was enthusiastically applauded.

Kokomo Entertained the Veterans.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 11 .- The surviving veterans of the Thirty-fourth Indiana Volunteers are in reunion in this city for a two days' session. The address of welcome was delivered by Dr. J. L. Puckett with response by ex-Representative Daniel Waugh, of Tipton. The attendance is good considering the limited number of survivors. Judge Waugh was the principal speaker at to-night's campfire.

John L. Griffiths at Richmond.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., Oct. 11.-The speech of John L. Griffiths, of Indianapolis, in this city to-night was a fitting climax for one of the greatest days in the history of Republicanism in this city and county. Mr. Griffiths spoke at the great Main-street Rink, ters, and it was packed with an audience that numbered more than 3,000 people. Mr. Griffiths has spoken here on several occasions, but his effort to-night supassed any of his addresses before a Richmond audience. His ringing utterances were greeted with great applause. John L. TWENTY-THREE NAMES HAVE BEEN PROVISIONALLY SELECTED.

Greatest Number of Votes Were Cast for Gen. Ulyses Simpson Grant-List of the "Immortals."

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 .- As a result of today's labor of the committee of the senate of New York University thirteen new names have been added to those already selected for a place in the Hall of Fame. Those counted to-day were in the following classes: Preachers and theologians, scientists, engineers and architycs, judges and lawyers, musicians, painters and sculptors, physicians and surgeons, soldiers and sailors. Far in the lead of the men of letters, especially Ralph Waldo Emerson, who led yesterday, with eightysix votes, was General Ulyses S. Grant, who heads to-day's list, with ninety-two votes. The entire list is as follows: Ulyses Simpson Grant, 92: John Marshall, 91: Jonathan Edwards, 81: David Glasgow Farragut, 79; Robert E. Lee, 69; Henry Ward Beecher, 66; James Kent, 65; Joseph Story, 64; John James Audubon, 62; William Ellery Channing, 58; Gilbert Stuart, 52; Horace Bushnell, 52; Asa Gray, 51. Those chosen yesterday were: Ralph

MAJORITY OF MINERS OPPOSED TO OPERATORS' PROPOSITION.

STATEMENT FROM MITCHELI

WHO WILL PRESIDE OVER THE MEETING AT SCRANTON.

Plenty of Money if Strikers Decide to Hold Out-No Serious Trouble Yesterday.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 11 .- The convention of the anthracite miners now on strike throughout the entire hard coal fields in Pennsylvania will convene in this city to-morrow morning for the purpose of which is serving for Republican headquar- considering the 10 per cent. increase in wages proffered them by nearly all the mine operators in the region. What the outcome of the convention will be is matter of speculation, and the opinions expressed to-night by labor leaders are widely divergent.

The delegates to the convention who began arriving to-day have all sorts of instructions from their local unions on the proposition of the operators. It was learned that most of them now on the ground will vote to reject the 10 per cent. increase unless the operators make further concessions. Many of the miners will not favor the advance unless the operaters give a guarantee that the increases will be kept in force for a fixed length of time, others want the union recognized before they will accept the proposition, plauded and cheered for many minutes. In speaking of to-morrow's convention Mr. Mitchell said to-day: "The miners' convention to-morrow will be one of the most remarkable labor meetings held in the history of coal mining. For the first time in over fifty years representatives of all the collieries on strike will meet in convention to discuss matters of vital interest to them. The proposition submitted by the operators to advance their wages 10 per cent. will, of course, be the paramount question. The calm, conservative conduct of the men during the strike will thracite miners as a result of their long years of hardship have become thoughtful and studious, and have a thorough knowlsire to legislate in the interest of miners in every section of the region. The concitement and the miners will demonstrate to the country that they are capable of doing business as prudent business men.' The convention, as near as the United Mine Workers' officials can figure, wil consist of abount 700 delegates. About half of this number are now here, most of them coming from the Schuylkill valley and the Hazleton region. The district headquarters were crowded all day by visiting delegates. President Mitchell spent a busy day at his headquarters in catching up with his mail and in preparing for the convention. This afternoon he prepared the address which he will deliver at the opening of the first session. In all likelihood the convention will be a secret one, but a press committee will be appointed to give out information to the public. President Mitchell will probably preside and the secretaries will be elected by the delegates. The organizing of the convention will be the only thing done at to-morrow morning's

W. D. Ryan, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of Illinois, arrived here to-day. DEMANDS OF MINERS.

Instructions to Delegates from the Wyoming Valley Collieries.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 11.-The Wilkesbarre assemblies of the United Mine Workers held meetings to-day and instructed the delegates to the Scranton convention to insist on the following demands: Recognition of the union; powder reduced to $1.50; 10 per cent. general adboss, and a contract signed by the companies agreeing to the above, to hold good for one year. The instruction of the delegates comes in the nature of a surprise as it was expected they would be allowed te use their own judgment after taking their seats in the convention and learning the sentiment of the other delegates. President Mitchell's speech at Scranton yesterday, in which he stated the 10 per cent, in wages offered by the companies was not enough, no doubt influenced the strikers in the Wyoming valley to a more or less extent.

The representatives of the big coal comvanies here, when shown the list of grieve ances which the miners of the Wyoming all of them have told me they were willvalley insist upon the convention enforce ing, said there would be no settlement of the strike on such a basis. They say the demands are too sweeping and that the companies could not think of granting them. The individual operators say any further concessions than those offered are out of the question. They claim that with a 10 per cent, increase and no reduction in carrying tolls they will have a hard time making ends meet. One individual operator said President Mitchell will make the mistake of his life if he does not use his influence with the delegates and have them accept the offer made by the oper-

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 .- A disastrous freight wreck near the East Boundbrook signal tower on the Central Railroad of New Jersey to-night tied up all travel on the road except that which could be sentaround the wreck by way of the Lehigh Valley tracks. The wreck cannot be cleared away before to-morrow morning. The New York and Chicago fast freight, running at the rate of sixty miles an hour, was one of the trains in the collision. To-night as it went past the tower house at East Boundbrook a slow freight started to leave a switch and ran out upon the main tracks The slow freight was half way over when the fast freight rushed into it. The engine drawing the fast train went into the slow train like a knife. The engine was in charge of Engineer Charles Campbell, of Jersey City. He stuck to his post and was cut in two. His fireman leaped before the crash and escaped serious injuries.

The engine overturned and lies upside lown on the east-bound tracks, with thirty forward cars of the fast freight contained sewing machines. The sudden stoppage of the car tore it to pieces, and some of the machines were hurled 150 feet away.

Wesselman, attorney for the officers of the Elizabethport Banking Company, proceeded to-day to endeavor to recover some of the property alleged to have been purchased by William Schreiber, the defaulting cashier, by suing out writs of replevin against Annie Hart, J. Dreicer & Sons, jewelers of Fifth avenue, and Jerome and Marcus J. Manheimer, the owners of the Colorado livery stables, for $15,000. The bank gave a bond of a surety company in $30,000. The horses and carriages n the possession of Manheimer Bros. are said to be worth $8,000, and J. Dreicer & Sons are claimed to have jewelry left there by Mrs. Hart valued at more than the balance mentioned in the writ. The writs of replevin were at once placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Rinn, who proceeded to serve them on the defendants named therein. According to the statements of Louis Quien, jr., the son of one of the directors of the Elizabethport Bank, the latter have known for about a month of the shortage and have been keeping the matter a secret, fearing to put the defaulter on his guard. Mr. Heidritter, the president, however, is positive that it was not nearly as long ago that the directors were informed of the thefts. "When that fellow did not come back after the expiration on Aug. 25 of his vacation," said he, "I put Walter C. Smith, the cashier, on his trail. I was worried, and I said to Mr. Smith: 'Here, go right vance; two weeks' pay; a check docking back to those books and see whether they are all in good shape or not.' He examined them and reported that the books were all right. About ten days ago he came to my house at 9 o'clock in the evening and said: 'Mr. Heidritter, I can't make the individual ledger balance with the general ledger. Well, this is a mighty fine time to tell me. I exclaimed. I drove out to Senator Kean's house, and got there at 11 o'clock at night. and told him the circumstances. The next morning I was down at the bank at o'clock, and in about two hours discovered approximately the deficit. Fight Between Policemen and United

TROUBLE IN CUBA.

States Cavalrymen.

HAVANA, Oct. 11 .- At Matanzas yesterday a Cuban policeman interfered with two members of the second United States cavalry. The quarrel culminated in a general fight between the police and soldiers who arrived upon the scene simultaneously. After the police had shot Trooper Turey of D troop, one other soldier and one civilian, a number of troopers of D troop tried to break into the gunroom to get their weapons; but the quick action of Capt. Frederick F. Foltz, of D troop, in forming troops L and M in skirmish order, made it impossible for the excited cavalrymen to pass. Lieutenant Willard is said to have been slightly hurt while endeavoring to quiet the men. The troopers declare that they will have cavalrymen. The authorities here look upon the incident as a pay-day fight, but an investigation has been ordered

Most of their utterances were anti-American and inflammatory. All were received with

W. V. POWELL EXPELLED

RAILWAY TELEGRAPHERS.

Tried by Delegates and His Expulsion from the Order Voted by a Large Majority.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.-W. V. Powell, who for seven years has been grand president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, was expelled from the organization to-day by a large majority of the votes of the delegates present. The vote for expulsion at which the prosecution and defendant were represented by counsel, and careful investigation of the charges was made. The trial was strictly executive, and news as to what transpired was only obtain-Powell was conduct unbecoming a member and officer of the order. The charges against Mr. Powell were originally preferred by Secretary Perham. At the same time counter charges were preferred by Powell against Perham. The Perham investigation is still pending. To-night Mr. Powell made every effort to avoid reporters. At his office in the Fullerton building three or four men kept watch througout the night. Some of Powell's friends stated they had no doubt that he would seek redress through the courts, as that was the only course left by which he could vindicate himself.

PORTO RICO AND ITS NEEDS.

annual Report of General Davis,

Commander of the Department. WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 .- The War Department to-day made public the annual report of Brig. Gen. George W. Davis, commanding the Department of Porto Rico. It states that when the organization of the civil government shall have been completed and the civil machinery is working well there will be no necessity to retain in the island so large a force as at present He cannot, however, conceive it possible to limit the garrison to a force just sufficient to take care of the guns at San Juan, and he points out that the island of Porto Rico must have in the future, as it has had in the past, great military importance. Spain expended more than $4,000,000 on the fortifications of San Juan, and upon the surrender to the United States the fortifications were found to be of great strength and the armaments extensive. General Davis adds: "It is inconceivable hat the United States will leave the island without adequate protection of men, hips and guns, the only land owned by the United States in the West Indies.' Land for a naval station has be served and a coaling and repair station probably will be erected at San Juan. General Davis says the armament should be ncreased and modernized and the guns cared for by a sufficient force of artillery. natives as soldiers has proved a marked success, judging from the appearance of the organization as it was seen on parade, review and in camp. While there has been no test of the nerve and courage of the natives in battle, yet General Davis ex-pressed the belief that they would prove satisfactory. During the year over 30,000,000 pounds of relief supplies have been distributed by the quartermaster's department. It has been found impracticable to use the native cattle for subsistence, and the refrigerated beef from this country has been generally acceptable. The cost of the relief supplies in aid of the hurricane sufferers was $824,828. In the local elections, General Davis says, there was never present at or near a voting place an armed soldier, and "the payonet was conspicuous by its absence." The main election under the act of Congress establishing an insular Legislature with one house elective has not yet been

YOUTSEY IS VERY SICK.

Brain Fever Feared, Which, in Present Condition, Would Be Fatal.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Oct. 11 .- The reports from Henry Youtsey's sick room tonight are not encouraging. The only change perceptible is that his stupor is not quite so heavy. Once or twice to-day he has lifted his hands an inch or two, and in a weak, piping voice repeated: "There's no blood on my hands.' His physicians fear brain fever, which would now prove fatal. It is contended by

NATURALLY UNLUCKY.

A Man Who Takes No Mean Chances on Any Venture.

"I am unlucky-just naturally unlucky!"

New Orleans Times Democrat.

said a man from one of the upper parishes, "and nothing would induce me to entertain a proposition that was in any way open to chance, because if I did I know I would inevitably get the worst of it. You may call this superstition, if you like, but it is supported by so many painful experiences that would be a fool to disregard the warning. The last time I gave fortune a chance to jab me in the solar plexus was several years ago, when a big lawsuit was on trial at a neighboring town, involving the title to a large tract of land in which I held an Vice Chairman Henry C. Payne said to- HE HAD VERY FEW FRIENDS AMONG interest. A couple of days before the case as closed an old negro aunty, whose h band was the bailiff in charge of the jury, told me that the verdict was already de-cided upon. Her husband had told her that 'the white ge'mmen had done made up their minds,' but, having sworn not to say anything about the secrets of the jury room, he wouldn't go any further. I had reason to believe the old woman's story was true, and, as a prior tip to the result would have been worth a lot of money to me, I told her to tell him that I would give him $50 if he would simply look at the side that was going to win when I came into court that afternoon. 'He doesn't need to say a word,' I added, 'so he won't be breaking his oath not to talk.' Of course, oughtn't to have employed any such sophistry, but I knew the old hypocrite only wanted a pretext to betray his trust, and, sure enough, when I entered the courtroom he glared fixedly at the side where came after a trial lasting nearly two days, the plaintiffs were seated. I went right out and accepted an offer for my interest that had been made me on the quiet earlier in the week. The next day the jury returned a verdict for the defendants, leaving me about $2,000 out of pocket by reason of my action. I hunted up the balliff to get some of his gore for leading me astray, but when able to-night. The charge against Mr. I found him I walked off without lifting a finger. It was my cussed luck once more He had tried to give me a straight tip, but he couldn't look the way he wanted to to save his soul. He was the only cross-eyed nigger in the parish."

A Question of Ownership.

New York Evening Post. The nature of ownership in book-titles is by no means generally understood, though the efforts of certain publishers to avoid collision with titles already used has brought the matter to public notice. In the current number of the Author, the secretary of the Society of Authors explains the state of the case. There is no copyright in titles, properly speaking, nor ownership in titles as such. It is only when a book-title is clearly original with the author, or when its use by another constitutes a fraud upon the reading public, that there is a case in law against the plagiarist. Thus Swinburne would have no remedy against a novelist who chose the name of "Lothwell" for his romance, since there would be no danger of the public mistaking the play for the novel. Obviously, too, no ownership could attach to titles of a general like "Our Village" and "A Boy's Town," unless intended fraud or substantial damages were proved. On the other hand, it is probable that the courts would restrain a publisher from advertising a new "Encyclopaedia Britannica" or man's Year-Book," while a bona-fide Har-per would be obliged to publish his "magaine" under another name than his own. Such is the general principle. Practically, the decision is made on the merits of each case by the courts; though the courtesy of the trade and the usual insignificance of the books that appear under the names of their betters prevent any such cases from coming up.
